Event Scheduled For Saturday, April 29, Will Have Sanction Of The A. A. U.

Sierra Madre's 1939 Mt. Wilson trail race will be held Saturday, April 29. This was decided at a meeting Tuesday night of the trail race committee, of which Fred LaLone is chairman, with Paul Carter, Harold Williams and John Copeland working with him.

Robert Angier, chairman of the California Athletic Club, which will officiate at the race, plans to be in Sierra Madre Sunday to go over the course with the committee, give suggestions, and aid in outlining a program.

Kenneth Harlan, district Forest ranger, has a crew of men putting the Mt. Wilson trail in condition and reports that it will be in first class shape.

A round trip affair, the race will cover 3 1/2 miles from the heart of the city to Orchard Camp, and return. There will probably be three classes: two for men and one for women; one class for men from 18 to 50 years, and the other 50 years and over. All entrants must be at least 18 years of age.

The race will be under A.A.U. sanction and sponsored by the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce. Applications will be received by the Chamber of Commerce until April 1, at which time the committee will announce where applicants may sign up.

Situation In China Will Be Told Here

Interesting Program Includes Explanation Of Causes Leading To Conflict

"War Goes On In China," the theme of Sunday's regular community gathering at Wistaria Vine Gardens, promises to be of more unusual interest, with a host of celebrities participating.

An interesting program of Chinese music will be presented during the evening by Miss Adeline Veghte, Miss W. H. Lum of Pekin, China, and Miss Haroldson of Whittier college. Miss Veghte and Miss Lum spent several years in Pekin where they made a special study of the operatic music of China, also of the folk songs sung by the children. Miss Haroldson will play several violin selections of Chinese music with piano accompaniment.

Luke Yuan, grandson of the first president of the Chinese Republic, and a graduate student at Cal-Tech, will play the Chinese violin. A collection of old Chinese musical instruments, including one which was the origin of the modern organ, will be exhibited by Miss Lum.

Dr. J. Earl Gessard, president of the China Society of Southern California, and other members of the society will attend. Guests will include Harold M. Finley, writer of many articles on the Sino-Japanese situation, and Robert H. Berkov, author of "Strong Man of China," the life of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. Mr. Berkov, long-time United Press correspondent in China and the Far East, has recently become publisher of the San Gabriel Sun. He gives a remarkably interesting and comprehensive picture of the Chinese war and the economic and other causes leading up to the unprovoked war and massacre of Chinese civilians.

Jewelry Disappears Mysteriously From Grand View Home

Mysterious disappearance of jewelry from the home of Mrs. Mary H. Gay, 299 West Grand View avenue, have police and county sheriffs guessing. A diamond platinum lavalliere and an old-fashioned lady's gold watch were discovered missing by Mrs. Gay Thursday March 9, when she returned to her home after spending the previous evening at Long Beach.

Crystal beads and cuff links also believed missing were later found in the Gay home still in the box which had also held the watch. Nothing else in the home had been disturbed. The lavalliere had previously been kept in a safety deposit box at the local bank but had been taken out by Mrs. Gay recently and had been worn on the Saturday evening previous to its disappearance.

Doors, both inside and out, in the Gay home were locked with nothing to indicate the presence of a marauder. Mrs. Gay's fingerprints were the only ones found on the beads and cuff links.

Tuesday evening he was principal speaker at a California Institute Associates' dinner in the Athenaeum.

County Plan Leaders Are Coming Here

Association With Large
Membership Will Meet At
Wistaria Fete April 1

Foremost among the outstanding events planned for the Wistaria Fete which will undoubtedly be held the latter part of the month—warm sunshine during the week doing its part to hasten the blossoming of the purple clusters—is the Association of City Planners of Los Angeles County luncheon meeting to be held Saturday, April 1, at 1 p.m.

A carefully arranged program promises to be entertaining, interesting and instructive. Gordon Whittall, well known to many Sierra Madreans and to all those interested in City Planning, will be the principal speaker and has chosen for his topic: "Vitalizing Planning in the Metropolitan Area Through Official Coordination—What Has Been Done and What Can Be Done."

Election of officers for the ensuing year, discussion of a proposed program for inter-community projects and other matters of vital concern to citizens, in all parts of the county will be discussed and acted upon. August B. Gorbach, president of the association, is urging every member of the group to attend and in line with widespread interest being shown in the meeting, John K. Kemmerer and J. Bruce Martin, civic leaders of Whittier, were guests of Mrs. W. J. Lawless at the Gardens on Tuesday, arranged details of the forthcoming gathering.

City To Give Edison Co. Franchise

Notice was given by the City Council at its meeting Tuesday evening that it proposes to grant a franchise to the Southern California Edison Company for transmitting and distributing electricity and maintenance of its distribution system for an indeterminate period. It gave notice that a public hearing will be held in the council chamber at the city hall on Tuesday, April 11, at which any citizen may file a written or oral protest if they so desire. The franchise ordinance was agreed upon following a series of conferences with Edison officials. It stipulates that the city shall receive two per cent of the gross annual receipts of the company's income within the city. Estimated revenue to be derived by the city will be approximately $300 a year for the present.

Until this time Sierra Madre has granted no franchises to the company, the municipality having had in mind several times installation of its own electric lighting plant and feeling that a franchise over a long period would preclude the possibility of such a venture. This proposed franchise, however, would be granted under the terms of an act of the 1937 assembly and may be terminated at any time by either party under the contract.

Final action on amendments to the city's nuisance ordinance was delayed Tuesday when amendments were made to the sections relating to the keeping of horses within the city limits. To obviate the possibility that a stable or corral may be offensively near or abutting on any thoroughfare the amendment provides that no stable or corral shall be maintained within 50 feet of any street or highway. As thus amended the ordinance will come up for final adoption on Tuesday, March 28.

The council finally adopted the new fire regulation ordinance, the principal provision of which is that no open fire will be permissible hereafter where the area that is burned is more than six feet in circumference, without a permit. The purpose is additional fire precaution and will prevent the burning of weed lots by citizens without permit from and supervision by the city.

Receiving a report from the Edison Company's inspectors that all the electric motors of the city's water department had been found in a good condition and well taken care of, the council increased the monthly salary of Al Freeland, in charge of the mechanism, $5 a month. An additional allowance of 20c an hour was voted the city tree trimmer.

29TH NATIONAL ORANGE SHOW PRESENTS GORGEOUS SPECTACLE, SAN BERNARDINO, MARCH 16TH TO 26TH

Internationally acclaimed as the world's greatest citrus exposition, the 29th National Orange Show at San Bernardino, opened yesterday for 11 days of gorgeous displays, exciting all star stage shows and hilarious fun.

"Golden California" is the theme for the event and the vast Orange show auditorium is cloaked in a lavish mantle of shimmering golden satin. More than 35,000 yards of glistening fabrics are draped on the 5-acre interior as complementary settings for the 1,000,000 oranges, lemons, grapefruit, and tangerines and countless beautiful flowers that will take their bows before the hundreds of thousands of visitors at the show.

Spirited competition among the growers and packers has brought added entries of prize quality fruit this year. The inauguration of last year of scientific laboratory tests to determine the relative color, sugar and juice content, weight and texture, won the confidence of the seekers for the cherished awards. A gorgeous flower show, fully five fold larger than last year's innovation, is an added attractive feature. Entertainment will be done in the grand manner. An all-star stage show featuring popular headliners from screen and radio and an exciting Ice Frolic are presented each afternoon and evening.

Arranging A Course For 8th Graders

School Board Ready To Inaugurate New Class
Here Next Semester

Sierra Madre's school board is going right ahead with plans to add an eighth grade with opening of the next semester. Its efforts now are to ascertain just what courses will be offered. For this purpose curriculum meetings are being held bi-weekly, called at the convenience of board members, with discussions on a proposed course of study.

To help board members decide what they want to offer, Mrs. B. L. Hinkley has been visiting schools in San Marino, Whittier, Monrovia, and Arcadia, getting information on their courses of study and comparing them. In two or three weeks, according to Edwin Ward, Jr., president of the school board, a curriculum for the eighth grade will be worked out.

In the opinion of Arthur Brown, principal of the Woodrow Wilson junior high school, Sierra Madre should be able to offer students practically all courses pupils are studying in the eighth grade at the Pasadena school, with only a few necessarily eliminated. Language finding is the only course now taught at Woodrow Wilson which is likely not to be offered locally. This course, a study of the background and history of several languages, is given to aid the child to select the foreign language he might later be interested in. However, omission of this course will not put Sierra Madre students at a disadvantage. Mr. Brown said in talking to Mr. Ward, because many other districts do not teach it either, but their students take it when they enter Woodrow Wilson later.

Those children who are specializing in a certain subject and desire particular training in various other fields, Mr. Ward said, should undoubtedly go to Woodrow Wilson, but for the normal student the contemplated eighth grade here in Sierra Madre will take care of his needs exactly. No calls have been sent out for teachers as yet, but the board will start interviewing in the near future.

Name Committee To Sponsor Camp Fire Girls Groups Here

Davey, executive director; Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, civic service director; Lee Shippey, publicity; Mrs. Bruce Moore, director of the mothers' group; and Dr. W. B. Heagerty, member-at-large.

Tribute Paid To Float Committee

Big Turnout Of Townsfolk
At Chamber Of Commerce
Dinner Meeting

Sierra Madre turned out en masse Friday night to publicly honor the 1939 Wistaria Town float committee and see by means of colored movies shown by Joseph Grippi, the result of long hours of work entailed in producing the prize-winning entry, "Seeing Nellie Home."

A miniature float decorated the speakers' table at the Wistaria Vine Gardens where the dinner was held. "Nellie," Daphne Alley; her escort, Bernard Wynne; Catherine McClelland and Anna Sue Adwell, who added youthful charm to the float, were introduced to the gathering.

A short business meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the affair, preceded the float committee tribute. John Spoelstra, chairman of the membership committee, urged wholehearted cooperation in the membership drive now on. Stressing its importance to every citizen, he introduced to T. Sierra Madrean, John L. FitzGerald, chairman of that committee, dwelt on the necessity of local citizens interesting themselves in conservation.

Waverly Pratt, chairman of the float committee, announced that, in order to secure funds for the 1940 Tournament of Roses entry, Sierra Madre's prize, a fine radio, would be presented to a person later to be selected.

Twenty or more Sierra Madreans were called by name by President Burr to stand up and receive tribute for their part in the float's success. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Dewey, who designed the float, were presented with a token of appreciation. Musical selections were furnished by Mrs. W. T. Clement on her electric organ.

Forest Chief Urges People To Action

Citizens Warned Conservation Is Vitrally Important To Sierra Madre

A small group of interested citizens turned out at the grammar school auditorium Wednesday night to hear a talk on the vital importance of fire protection and conservation in the mountains above Sierra Madre.

W. V. Mendenhall, forest supervisor of Angelus Forest, principal speaker of the evening, was introduced by John L. FitzGerald, conservation chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, who stressed the fact that it is up to the people of Sierra Madre to immediately send letters to Representative Carl Hinshaw and Senators Downey and Johnson, urging an appropriation that will adequately cover cost of fire prevention work.

"It is too late when a fire breaks out," said Mr. FitzGerald. "You have got to prevent forest fires or the reasons for them." He also suggested that individual letters be written to T. Fenton Knight at Sacramento in reference to Assembly bill No. 521, the "State conservation bill," calling for an appropriation of more than two million dollars for fire protection in the foothills.

Using problems facing forest service as his theme Mr. Mendenhall stated that fire problems have changed in Angelus forest during the past 25 years and said it was well to keep in mind that in southern California forests are brush covered rather than timber, and while a forest fire in other states might mean tremendous financial loss "removal of brush covering in Angelus forest causes a loss that cannot be measured in dollars and cents," adding:

"We are still offering the type of fire protection we had 15 to 20 years ago. In 1933, through the aid of CCC, we had 18 men working in Angelus forest, and in two and one-half years we went to town on the development of fire breaks, and look out. We were about 75 to 80 per cent finished with the job when the government began to realize that CCC camps had a value that had not before been recognized. Gradually the backwoods areas began to lose their help, until now there are just three workers in the Angeles forest, and the work is still about 15 per cent uncompleted."

The prize-winning essay will be published in the SIERRA MADRE NEWS and in addition first and second prize winners will be taken on a "show me" trip into the back country by forest rangers.

Local Girl Loses Queen's Crown By Flip Of A Coin

Dorothy Levinson, daughter of Mrs. Robert Levinson, 187 North Sunnyside avenue, missed being queen of the Queen Esther Ball by the flip of a coin. Judges at the Ambassador Hotel last Saturday evening found themselves unable to decide between Miss Levinson and another contestant, so they resorted to the old trick of tossing a coin. The other girl won the toss, but Miss Levinson, stately blonde, fared well as runner-up, becoming first Lady in Waiting and received an order for a spring wardrobe of her choosing.

The affair was given by the Merchants and Manufacturers Club of Los Angeles as a benefit for the Los Angeles Sanatorium at Duarte. Mrs. Ben Solnit, of Sierra Madre, was director of the benefit.

Merriam met and were welcomed by their new neighbors at a supper party given in their honor at Wistaria Vine Gardens Sunday evening by Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Burbank. Unmarred by speeches and formality the new Sierra Madreans seemed to enjoy their reception immensely.

E. D. Burbank welcomed the newcomers, and briefly referred to their early association in Iowa. In responding Mr. Merriam told of experiences in various parts of California, stressing the fact that there is "much romance and glamour" to be found in all parts of the state. Mrs. Merriam expressed her delight at being a Sierra Madrean and with their friends and neighbors here.

Besides guests of honor, the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Burbank, the invited guests were Miss Marjorie Adams, Mrs. Anna Bacon, Mrs. Alice Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Burr, Mr. and Mrs. R. ## City's Fete Will Open March 31

Buds Burst And Fullest
Co-operation Is Asked By
Chamber Of Commerce

Friday, March 31st, was decided upon last night as the opening date for the 1939 Wistaria Fete.

Not only have 100 or more huge buds burst into bloom during the summerlike weather this week, but prediction of Col. Hersey and other weather authorities for continuation of this condition is taken to mean that the entire vine will be well in bloom within the next ten days. Eminent horticulturists from Ontario, Pasadena and the Los Angeles park department were consulted before the opening date was announced.

The Fete will be conducted by a city wide committee representing all of the civic organizations, organized by the Chamber of Commerce, which will meet at the city hall at 7:30 Monday evening to arrange details of the Fete. One day will be assigned to each organization when it will share generously in the receipts. In urging the fullest cooperation of all citizens, the Chamber of Commerce said in a letter to various organizations:

"Having in view the undeniable asset that the Wistaria Vine is to the community, your Chamber of Commerce recommends that this year, more than ever, when we will have Golden Gate Exposition visitors with us from all over the world, we make the blossom season a civic enterprise in its greatest sense."

Urge Better Conditions At School

Health Official Finds
Faulty Ventilation And Poor Heating System

An inspection of the Sierra Madre school made March 2 by E. J. Bumiller of the County Health Department disclosed certain unfavorable conditions, brought to the attention of the board in a letter written by Mr. Bumiller March 8. The purpose of the inspection was to ascertain if the school affords proper ventilation and light in every classroom.

As a result Mr. Bumiller found that ventilation of the classrooms is poor and the air stuffy. To remedy this condition it was suggested that wall ventilators near the ceiling be installed so as to obtain proper cross ventilation in most classrooms.

By means of a recognized light meter it was discovered that lighting on the first and second floors was inadequate. A test made on the lower floor of the light effect in the first three rows of seats adjacent to the side blackboard, with daylight only, showed below 10 candle-light, and when the ceiling light on the same side of the room was turned on the meter registered a few points higher, but improper lighting was still indicated.

Twenty candle-light is necessary to eliminate eyestrain of pupils occupying these seats. Mr. Bumiller suggested that "for the first three to four rows of seats adjacent to the blackboard in rooms on the first and second floors that artificial light be provided and that bulbs of sufficient wattage be provided to bring the candle-light up to 20."

On the upper floor Room 14 has openings on the opposite wall which afford cross ventilation but the three front rows of seats have poor illumination and it was recommended that artificial light be also provided there.

Gas heaters were also criticized because, Mr. Bumiller said he found that vent flues from heaters in several rooms were inadequately attached to the ceiling flue, and that on windy days when windows are open burners sometimes blow out. To remedy this condition the inspector suggested installing a galvanized guard around the heater in such a position as to protect the burner from the wind.

Action on the suggestions will be taken immediately, Mr. Ward stated. The cross-ventilation condition will be submitted to the architect who designed the school for further suggestions, to promote better public health conditions.

Hull, Sierra Madre women who have attained prominence in flower arrangement groups with their distinctive work, have been chosen to exhibit at the House and Garden Annual Flower Arrangement Show which opened last night at 921 Fair Oaks avenue, South Pasadena, and will close tomorrow evening. Twenty-seven floral designers from Southern California communities will exhibit at the show, which in past years has attracted thousands of flower lovers.

He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city.—Prov. 16:32.

To be able to live peaceably with hard and perverse persons, or with the disorderly, or with such as go contrary to us, is a great grace, and a most commendable and manly thing.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

St. Patrick's Day belongs to the Irish, to be sure, but it's a day of jollity and right good fellowship in which all can participate in the wearing of the wearing of the green.
Indeed, it was St. Patrick himself who said, "The blessing of God upon you all!" And those warm greetings draw no restrictions.

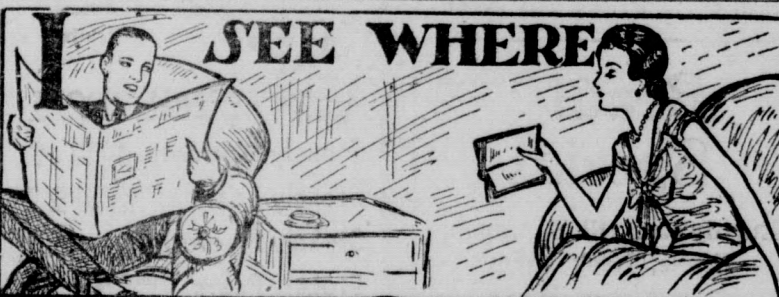

But to the sons and daughters of Elre the day carries a special meaning. It's a day that does honor not only to a great missionary, but to the spirit of fiery patriotism which has long stirred the hearts and souls of Ireland's people. That patriotism is not hard to understand in a country so rich in legend, folk-lore, and beautiful folk-songs, and having great poets and dramatists like Yeats and Lady Gregory to recreate those legends, and fine bards like McCracken to sing its native melodies.

But it's not only the children of Erin that can celebrate on such a day of good fellowship, for one of her very own minstrels has declared:
"And the earth below is gay
With its tender green today,
For the whole world is Irish on
The Seventeenth of March!"BIRTHDAY

THE OLD LIGHTHOUSE STILL STANDS

There were approximately 2363 strikes in the nation in 1938 as against 4740 in 1937, and the estimated man-days lost in 1938 was 9,037,720 as against approximately 28,425 in 1937. Which indicates that the greatly diminishing number of strikes in Los Angeles county in 1938 as against 1937 was in keeping with the national trend. The estimated economic loss from strikes nationally in 1938 was $3,020,225,000, in 1938 the estimated economic loss from strikes in the nation diminished to $1,599,440. There were but 41 bona fide strikes in Los Angeles county in 1938, 33 less than in the year 1937. Seventeen industries experienced strike activities during the year. These strikes involved 5680 employees out of a total of 8195 persons working in these 17 industries. Eliminating the longshoremen's tie-ups from the general strike picture, only 2250 employees out of the 4709 in the 17 industries, of 47.4 per cent, actually took strike action.

There are more people making machines today than were engaged in all manufacturing 100 years ago.

The swastika bows before no power, secular or spiritual. Today it has begun to swallow the possessions of the Catholic Church in what was once Austria but is now called Ostmark. The Nazi drive is moving cautiously against its great opponent, but since Germany made its bloodless conquest of Austria a year ago this month, it has been quietly, but none the less successfully, working toward the conquest of the Church's power. During the past year, Nazi commissioners have been appointed to control the properties and financial administration of all the larger monasteries. Religious schools are being closed, taken over by the government and turned into army barracks and military training centers. The gradual confiscation of religious institutions is merely the visible evidence of a prime Nazi conviction. That conviction decrees that religion, even human dignity, must be sacrificed to the needs of the all-powerful State.

If you smoke one pack of cigarettes a day, the Federal tax alone amounts to almost $22 a year.

Too many youths are going places—in somebody else's car. Probation officers report marked increase in the number of cars stolen by minors, and they promise to make women's hats suffer penalties. But we can save work for juvenile courts, and worry for ourselves, very simply. Just remove the ignition key and lock the door—before the car is stolen!

The style creators are now decreeing that women's hair must be cut short, but not shingled. The stylists who have done their utmost to make women's hats look like everything from birds' nests to umbrellas, are now apparently going to work to make hair-dos do wonders. It hardly seems possible, but the women are deliberately scorning this newest decree of Dame Fashion. The style creators sought models to show the world how the new haircut would look, but so far every model has refused to have her locks trimmed. But will this declaration of independence last?

Those little gray homes in the West are beginning to really do things for recovery, and not only in the West, but elsewhere, too! Homes, to the number of 356,000 units, and at a cost of $1,330,000,000, reports the U. S. Department of Labor, were built in 1938—an increase of 23 per cent in number. If the accelerated trend of the last nine months continues, residential building this year promises to show a 50 per cent increase over 1938. Those little gray homes are great producers!

A $26 a week paper mill worker in Kalamazoo, Mich., would rather keep his job here than forfeit his U. S. citizenship and claim a fortune awaiting him in his native Italy. He has renounced the fortune, saying: "My American citizenship means more to me than any other possession. I would rather be a mill worker here than king of Italy." The worker is Frank Rusoti, 42, who came to the United States when he was nine. His father died in Italy last month and left his estate to Rusoti. To claim it, however, he must return to his native country. Rusoti doesn't know the size of the fortune, because Italian officials have refused to divulge the amount.

Case and Comment

By Charles B. Showalter

(Editor's Note: The opinions expressed herein are those of Mr. Showalter and do not necessarily reflect the attitude or opinions of THE NEWS.)

IN A recent comment we had something to say concerning the youth movement in the United States, and out of our wide experience presumed to offer some—perhaps—unwelcome advice. These comments are not to be construed as an indictment of youth, either as individuals or as a class. The various subversive organizations to which so many students and youths in other fields have been attracted, were not conceived or inspired by the young people themselves, but were promoted and motivated by shrewd and subtle agitators and propagandists of the various poisonous isms emanating from Europe. And these agitators are keenly aware that it is through the youth of the land that this infiltration would do most damage to our American system.

The young people have been misled, deceived. Their radical activities are only a partial expression of their natural desire to "get on in the world." They quite naturally want to get in on the "Social Security" being preached so much these days—and practiced less than ever before in our history.

Youth should understand that radical and revolutionary activity will contribute less than nothing to their future welfare. And since the youth of today will be the managers of big and little businesses, the legislators and governors and presidents of tomorrow, they will secure most for themselves and for society and for their country by making adequate preparation NOW for the battles and the struggle sure to come.

Youth is life's seed-time,—the day of preparation. And let not youth be impatient. Moses took 40 years to prepare for his mission. Jesus spent 30 years in preparation; Lincoln 52. The youth of today, or any day, who aspires to his rightful place in the sun, who wants to make his future secure, will dodge all the silly isms that confound their elders, and center their attention and all their efforts on laying the foundations of a well ordered and well balanced life. And by that we mean an intensive drive for physical development, intellectual culture and spiritual growth. Even our adult contingent could profit by taking the same medicine, since our relief rolls and WPA are clogged by those who have failed to do so.

Those who have developed the fullness of their powers—physical, mental, spiritual, are never found among the wrecks that litter the highway of life. And they are not looking for relief, or something for nothing. On the other hand, they have much to give.

All three departments of living—physical, intellectual, spiritual—are of equal importance to a well rounded life, and unless kept in balance according to their relative importance, failure is almost assured.

Over cultivation of the physical, to the neglect of the others, produces a Jess Willard or a Joe Louis, to be thrown on the scrap pile at 30 years of age—where they belong.

Over cultivation of the mental produces the prodigy, the know-it-all, the intellectual snob, who knows everything yet knows nothing outside their limited field, and certainly knows not how to live. They are a menace to society.

And too much emphasis on the spiritual side of life produces the religious crank, the fanatic, who breeds intolerance, and obscures the vital import of God's message to men. A proper development of the spiritual values should produce a sane, comfortable, and abiding faith.

The young man or woman who is prepared to enter the competition of life with a sound, clean body, a keen, straight thinking mind, and an incorruptible faith, will unquestionably, adequately meet the challenge of home, of society and of country, and incidentally secure their own future, because it is these abiding spiritual realities that give both direction and security to life.

The ideal for all time, of course, is the man, Jesus of Nazareth. We speak of the MAN, because it is with his essential manliness that the comparison should be made.

Isaiah (53:2) speaks of His comeliness, and describes the beauty of His person, which must have included health, strength, and physical vigor. His discourses reveal the beauty and the vigor of His mind. His life and work, and the manner in which He fulfilled His mission portrays to us His dauntless spirit and His confident faith.

He is the complete, all-inclusive example of vigorous, useful, reverent manhood, coming to us as a direct revelation from the most High. And the ideal man was given direct Divine sanction and approval when God proclaimed to the world: "This is my beloved Son: hear Him." (Luke 9:35)

This ideal is youth's challenge. It is also mankind's only hope.

The Marriage
Problem

By ERNEST POOLE

Author of "The Harbor," "His Family," etc.

In Future We Will Use Our Emotions Just as Scientists
Use the Forces of Life

"MARRIAGE a hundred years from now? There won't be any," said a man I know. "Life will be one long succession of love affairs. And God help the men!" "The men?" I asked, with a shiver for my poor little great-grandson, unborn.

"Yes, the men," he answered. "They're the ones who will suffer most. For most men just naturally love their homes. After a hard day's work at the office, they like to come home and find some peace and quiet there. They like to find the same old wife."

"A lot of lies have been told about men. Because most of them have a thing when they're young they have been put down as philanderers—while the wife has always been described as the Great Monogamist. And that," he said bitterly "is all bunk. She's a lover of her home, all right—yes, and of her children, too. But she takes to romance as a duck to water."

"The modern woman would be much better content with a home through which a string of husbands passed, each one leaving a child or two, and alimony, behind him. In the past she couldn't have it that way; laws and customs held her down. But she's rapidly getting rid of them now. And when she does, God help the men!"

"That man," said a woman, to whom I had repeated this speech, "sounds to me exactly as if he were paying alimony right now. Nine women out of ten," she declared, "will always be what we've always been—monogamists."

But as I look about me, I am not so sure of that. Our girls have grown independent of late. They are exploring, inquisitive lot, and they're from Missouri. They want to be sure. They know that once they have children they're anchored pretty well for life.

So I shouldn't wonder if more and more refused to have any children until they had tried, by a marriage or two, to make sure they found the husband with whom they wished to settle down.

And even then will they stick to their homes? Many will, I think—but others, no.

And by a hundred years from now, most people, in the cities at least, may live in large apartment hotels, with great nurseries on the top floor.

What is the average mother and wife going to do with all her time? She will have a lot of it, in those days, for by a century from now life will be longer. The chances are that she'll live to be a hundred or more, and ways will be found to prolong her youth.

"In the world of emotions," said a psychiatrist I know, "our exploring has just begun. And since the center of all motions is this passion that people call love, our explorations are bound to work some astounding changes in the whole marriage relation," he said.

"Most people who get married now know so little about love that the whole relation is soon a matter of routine. In the future it will not be so. We are going to know and use our emotions just as our chemists and engineers use the external forces of life."

I shivered a bit, for it seemed to me that in those new laboratory homes a good many high-power young women I know would rather be likely to blow up. And back came my anxiety for that poor little great-grandson of mine.

But suddenly I realized that I had quite overlooked the most important point of all. The young wife of a hundred years from now, in two cases out of three, will probably fill her spare time with a job.

Already she is invading the businesses, professions and arts, and most of our industries; and where one girl does it now, ten will do it in those days.

With her job, her children, and her home, her life may be sufficiently filled so that she won't bother to change husbands often except at the start.

All this is but a hope, I admit—the wistful blind conjecture of a fond great-grandfather-to-be and of a happily married man. But one thing at least is sure:

By a hundred years from now many old bonds will be broken; men and women will do as they please.

Legislative
CommentsBy T. FENTON KNIGHT
Assemblyman, 48th District

SENTIMENT in favor of governmental economy has spread so rapidly through both houses of the legislature since March 6th that practically every departmental head in Sacramento has assumed a worried expression over the ultimate fate of some hoped for appropriation at this session. Dr. Dewey Anderson's request for an additional $4,000,000 to carry on unemployment relief until July 1 was the shock which crystallized a formidable group of Assemblymen into a united opposition until they can be convinced by facts and figures that the necessity of this additional appropriation is imperative.

Those now delving into the whys and wherefores of the additional $4,000,000 apparently can not forget that the new State Relief Administrator refused only some 60 days ago to accept an appropriation of $11,750,000 to carry on the work of his department to April 20 in order that more accurate data might be compiled under his supervision as to the needs for the balance of the fiscal year. At that time he demanded, and received a unanimous vote for an emergency appropriation of nearly $20,000,000 to finish out the current biennium. Even Dr. Anderson's warmest supporters now realize that the additional funds are not going to be voted into his hands without proof of a convincing nature.

It is reasonably probable that Dr. Anderson's request for additional funds will probably encounter even greater difficulties in the Senate than in the Assembly. A fair example of the Senate's attitude toward matters of this nature is the refusal to pass a deficiency bill of $183,740 to meet the payroll for 978 employees of the Motor Vehicle Department pending the collection of certain revenues due that department.

It is a matter of general comment about the Capitol that the Assembly committees have organized with more speed and considered more bills to date than at any previous session since 1931. It is also the consensus of opinion that the work accomplished by the committees on ways and

Women Initiated

At impressive ceremonies conducted by five supreme national officers of the Emblem Club, Elks auxiliary, at the Monrovia Elks Club Friday evening, seven Sierra Madre women were initiated into the order which was officially instituted at that time. The ceremony, performed in a lodge room beautifully decorated with streamers of official colors and baskets of flowers, was attended by members of clubs from several Southern California districts.

Sierra Madre women initiated as charter members were Mmes. William Lees, Frances Brain, L. B. Welch, Thomas Henderson and Miss Muriel Tarr. Mrs. Sue Kinkle and Mrs. Helen Westerfield, dressed in white and wearing gardenias in their hair, were installed as organist and treasurer, respectively.

School Exhibits At County Fair Will Set New Record

One of the new developments in the progress of the schools in Los Angeles county is the recent appointment of J. Arthur McCann as Coordinator of Fair Exhibits representing the city and county schools at the Los Angeles county fair at Pomona. McCann has been granted a leave of absence from his work as art supervisor of the Pomona city schools to devote all of his time to planning and preparation of the exhibits. New and added space for the schools will enable the showing this year to excel anything previously done in educational work.

Hot Pace Set For Timber Toppers At Riviera Club

Sturdy timber toppers are taking the jumps daily in preparation for the fourth round of steeplechasing Sunday afternoon at Riviera Country Club. These thrilling races, which are bringing crowds of screen celebrities to the Riviera galleries each week will continue through April 2.

Steeplechasing in their training are all pointing for Peso, Mrs. Vanderbilt Phelps' chestnut gelding that has carried away top honors for three successive Sundays.

Polo starts at 1:45 and the racing program, which includes two steeplechasing races and a flat mile run, start at 3 o'clock.

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

"SHORTY" STEINBERGER'S turn to feed was held over until the next meeting night, because Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dougherty supplied the "feed" Friday. Leo served a big platter that resembled one of the city's settling business. It was filled with fine meats and cheeses, not to forget the onions and other trimmings. And we'll never forget that good home-made apple pie.

What are now nice, green looking lots will soon be dry, tall weeds and wild oats. After the recent rain, the ground is in perfect condition for plowing or spading. Keep 'em down and they won't burn down, nor burn something else as they go.

A few of us had planned on setting aside 15 cents a day for 365 days. This we were going to have for the firemen's convention in September. This was going along fine until "Charity Day" at the race track, and now we wonder where a fellow could get a job to earn a few dollars. I wouldn't be surprised to see some of the boys out on the street asking for dimes in order to get to the convention.

Louie Karger's "Cuss Can" is beginning to bulge at the sides and if the success he has been having continues, we should have one great picnic this summer. The more they cuss, the more we eat on the 4th of July. Louie has been a fine collector for many years and with long experience is doing his best just now.

Miss Thomasella Graham left Tuesday for a two-weeks vacation at La Jolla where she will visit an old school friend, Miss Edwina James, of Boston, who is spending the winter there.

Plan Organization Of Boys Band From All
Sections Of The San Gabriel Valley
To Meet Need For Entertainment

San Gabriel Valley cities need some form of entertainment and amusement for their youth, and a meeting of the San Gabriel Chamber of Commerce Monday night, a proposed solution was offered. William Burr, president of the local chamber, was a guest of the San Gabriel chamber and reported genuine enthusiasm and interest in the project originated by Dr. Claire Moore of San Gabriel. The idea is to form a large San Gabriel Valley Boys Band, and to prove what success might be attained. Dr. Moore staged a demonstration at the Mission Theatre, bringing a band of 65 young men whom he personally coached, to play for members. Success of the PJC Bulldog Band, official band of the Tournament of Roses, was cited as an example of what may be accomplished.

Plans are in a very early stage at present but the general idea is to have every city in the San Gabriel Valley sponsor 10 or more boys who have had experience playing a musical instrument. The boys would practice once a week under the leadership of a bandmaster, and would be available for appearance before civic groups and programs.

Police departments in the various cities will be asked to cooperate with the group and each week an officer from one of the towns will attend the meeting, talk to the young men, and strive to develop a friendly relationship between police and young citizenry. Representatives of San Gabriel, Alhambra, San Marino, El Monte, Arcadia, Monrovia and Sierra Madre expressed their willingness to cooperate and suggested that more information be given, relating to definite plans, applications, etc.

Sierra Madre Artist
In Exhibition By
Pasadena Society

Louis Dillman, Sierra Madre painter, is exhibiting several of his paintings from March 13 to April 15 at the 15th annual exhibition of Pasadena Society of Artists at the Grace Nicholson Galleries, 46 North Los Robles.

Noted for his distinctive technique, Mrs. Dillman is attracting particular attention with his "Passing Storm" which is hung in the principal room of the galleries during the exhibit. His "Desert Early Morning" on exhibit also reflects the same technique, while a water color, "Morning," received enthusiastic praise from art patrons who were guests at an invitational "preview" tea Sunday afternoon. Mr. Dillman, as a member of Pasadena Society of Artists, was among the hosts and hostesses for the afternoon.

WILSON TRI-Y GIRLS
INITIATE MEMBERS

At a delightful candle light tea given at the home of Roberta Roberts last Thursday evening, new members to be accepted by the Wilson Tri Y Club were initiated and officers elected. Those initiated were Barbara Colligan, Roberta Roberts, LaVonne Kennedy, Virginia Lorenzini, Betty Lou Lacy, Mary Jane Davey, Sylvia Colbert, Berta Uliarte and Vera Scott.

Officers elected were: Melba Scott, president; Mary Jane Clatworthy, vice president; Betty Abbott, secretary; Katherine Cordes, treasurer; Mary Lee Nicholson, entertainment.

A. L. A. Activities

DISTRICT President Viola Forsythe is in the north attending a board meeting, so let's not mar our fine record by a dragging membership. Officers, please help by seeing that your dues and those of your friends are turned in at once. Hospital calls must be made this week, those not going might assist by checking on membership in their neighborhood.

One of the highlights of our business meeting was a talk by Augusta Coats. A radio talk given by President Helene Smith on the University Service Bill was read and very enthusiastically received.

Poppy chairman Lucille Pickett inaugurated the idea of using poppy stamps this year for advertising our Poppies which we sell for disabled veterans hospitalized with little or no compensation. The schools are cooperating in our sponsorship of a Poppy Poster contest.

A letter was read from a member in which she enclosed her dues thanking the Unit for reminding her and may we remind you dues paid after March 31st will prevent your unit from being listed among those receiving a department citation, prevent your district from being seated comfortably at convention, and also help prevent your department from winning the National prize. Protect your eligibility, by remitting at once—please.

A social meeting will be held Thursday, 23rd, the place to be announced later by Florence Jensen.

Members Of Class In Home Hygiene Are Given Certificates

At a delightful informal tea given by Mrs. Augusta Coats, instructor in the Red Cross Home Hygiene class, at her home, 240 East Sierra Madre Blvd., Tuesday afternoon, eight students were presented with certificates. Mmes. Alyce Bergelin, Katherine Grijalva, Helen Hill, Mattie Spencer, Alta Van Meter, and the Misses Emilie Roos, Louise R. Shippey and Alice Spearman completed the home hygiene course and received certificates from C. W. Jones, chapter chairman.

In addition to the students Mrs. C. W. Bowen, Miss Edith Rankin, Mrs. C. E. Allen, Mrs. Sattethwaite, Monrovia secretary; Miss Louise Judson, Mrs. E. R. Thompson, chairman of the home hygiene committee; and Miss Marian L. Vannier, were entertained.

PICNICKERS FIND
DESERT COLORING UP

Wild flowers on the Colorado desert are coming into bloom and will probably reach full bloom within the next few weeks, according to Mr. and Mrs. Foster Bumpus, who with their family spent last Sunday near Indio, where in places some of the early desert flowers, made splashes of brilliant color which seem to indicate much beauty there within a short time.

Paving Of Mariposa Avenue Assured As Owners "Sign Up"

Splendid response on the part of property owners on Mariposa avenue between Hermosa and Lima streets was received this week by Daniel H. Lewis, assistant street superintendent, who is contacting individuals in connection with the paving, laying of sidewalks and curbs in that area. Figures released by the city hall show that of $1,405.00, minimum amount to be raised, $1,195.99, is already in. Of this amount, $72.48 has been paid to the Sierra Madre Savings Bank by property owners, and $323.51 will be raised by the city for Park frontage. This leaves a balance of $254.01, which Lewis is confident will be posted within a week.

Painters To Compete At The Fete

Cash Prizes To Draw Southland Artists For Sierra Madre Scenes

A painting competition will be sponsored during the Wistaria Fete by the Arts Guild. Rules being arranged and judges will be announced soon it was announced this week. The competition will be open to painters throughout Southern California. Pictures will be limited in size to 20 by 24 inches and must be painted out-of-doors in Sierra Madre or at the Wistaria Vine during the fete. Cash prizes of $175 will be awarded. First prize of $100 will be given by Mrs. W. J. Lawless, owner of the Wistaria vine; second prize of $50 will be by the Chamber of Commerce; and the third prize of $25, or the water color prize, will be awarded by the Arts Guild.

Governor's New Tax Proposals Will Be Explained

An "honest budget" will be the subject of discussion at a meeting in the city hall on Monday, March 20, at 8 o'clock. At this meeting there will be an explanation of the budget Governor Culbert L. Olson has submitted and its plan to increase taxes on income salaries and commodities to raise the additional revenue required.

Al S. Myers will open the meeting and Leland J. Fogg will be master of ceremonies. Speakers will be John C. Packard, Fred Bull, of Pasadena, and other well-known Democrats.

Mystery Swallows Due Here Monday

If all goes well, and for 70 years there has been no slip-up, the return of the "Mystery Swallows" at San Juan Capistrano will occur Sunday, March 19, feast day of St. Joseph. On that day vast flocks of swallows appear out of nowhere, circle the skies above Mission San Juan Capistrano and descend upon the mission to build nests in adobe walls. The birds leave each year on October 23, the feast day of St. John.

Strangely enough a contingent of the swallows arrive in Sierra Madre a day later, on March 20, and make their headquarters in Sierra Madre canyon. Many families are looking forward to a visit from the birds on Monday, among them Mr. and Mrs. James Hensley, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Block, for their homes are regular summer homes of the migrants.

What A Girl Sees Ramblin' 'Round

THIS is the story of a policeman and a dead cat that gave the officer a bad 15 minutes or so one black night when most Sierra Madreans were peacefully sleeping. . . . The tall, well-liked officer was making his rounds by car about 11:30 one night when he got a call to pick up a dead cat. . . . That he did putting pussy on the running board, and was on his way to the city dump to dispose of the carcass. . . . Then he got another call. This time it was to pick up a drunk who was zig-zagging along the street. . . . Back he turned with the dead cat still aboard. . . . picked up the drunk and installed the drunk in the car and drove back to the police station. . . . Once more he drove off with the dead cat. . . . and was almost where he started for twice before when he got another call from the station. . . . Frantically he threw the cat over the gate at the city lot adjoining the pumping plant, and drove off. That was not the end of the story. . . . Mrs. Hogan, wife of the water plant foreman, had a pet cat, missing for a few days. . . . when she saw the dead cat the policeman had tried so hard to get rid of, she was sure her missing pet had spent the last of her nine lives and with a heavy heart she buried the animal. . . . Not long after her own pet came scratching at the door. . . . Like the declension of the verb "die" given by an Americanization student described in a highly amusing book read recently "Die. . . . dead funeral." . . . Either more people are interested in having a moving picture theatre in Sierra Madre within the last few weeks or it was just by coincidence that we heard no less than five people, young, old and medium say they thought it was time the city got into the swing of things and had a theatre right here instead of sending movie-minded Sierra Madreans off to other towns. . . . Would the city support a theatre? . . . That is the important question. . . . Judge Tom Neale says "Yes," although a few years ago he admitted he would have answered to the contrary. . . . But it would have to be an up-to-date theatre, he added, with a good ventilating system, comfortable seats, excellent equipment and late pictures. . . . Because it lacked most of these feature the theatre that closed its doors several years ago and which was located where Brock's market stands now, was a flop. If it's worth going into at all, it's worth doing right, seems to be the general opinion. . . .

Councilman Really Make Flying Trip To Golden Gate Expo

Sierra Madre's flying councilman returned home Sunday afternoon from a quick trip to the Golden Gate Exposition and were more frightened by the taxicabs in San Francisco than by the plane ride either way! Councilmen Tom Schwartz, John Froehlich, Tom Miller, City Clerk Waverly Pratt and William Schwartz and Walter Price of the engineering department, with Kenneth Hawkins, owner of the plane and pilot, took off at 7 o'clock Saturday morning from Alhambra and in 3 hours and 40 minutes were gazing down on Treasure Island. The men picked up Sam Graham who spent the week in San Francisco and then journeyed off to the fair. They vow they walked for eight hours without stopping, even to eat. After viewing the many wonders of the Exposition and the city itself the party returned home Sunday in 3 hours and 10 minutes. Especially interesting to the Sierra Madreans was a view of the sliding mountain at Gilroy from the air.

The trip north was quite cold, the flying squadron said, leaving early in the morning and flying high over the mountains. Councilman Tom Schwartz said his feet were so cold he wasn't sure he had any.

This Area Natural Airplane Center Kiwanians Told

Southern California is destined to become the outstanding aviation center of the world, Kiwanians were told Tuesday by J. D. Anderson of the Douglas Company. Giving an interesting history of the famous Los Angeles concern, Mr. Anderson told of the hardships it encountered in its early days.

Bright, clear weather, warm climate and lack of heating problems is one of the reasons why Mr. Anderson thinks this area will be the one air plane manufacturing center. Keeping workers warm in a plant of a million square feet such as the Douglas, would be a serious problem in other states, Anderson said, while take-offs for test flights are never hampered by snows.

T. W. A., American Airlines, North-west Airlines and other companies have donated several thousand dollars toward research on a transcontinental plane being built by Douglas that will carry more passengers and a heavier load than any now flying, Anderson revealed. This plane, the DC-4 has been in the making two years, and in test flights recently taken has proved successful. He showed pictures taken during construction of the plane. John Fitzgerald served as program chairman for the day; Sam McElfresh, school teacher, was introduced as a new member by Rudy Hartman. The teacher was presented with a dunce cap.

Brothers Held For Trial On Bad Check Charges

At a preliminary hearing held at Pasadena before Judge J. Russell Morton yesterday the bogus-check passing brothers, John and Pleny Notz, were bound to Superior Court for trial, with bail set at $3,000. The brothers were charged with eight counts of forgery—six bad checks passed in Pasadena, and two in Sierra Madre.

SHAKESPEARE SCENES AT THE WOMAN'S CLUB

Scenes from "Romeo and Juliet," "As You Like It," and "The Merchant of Venice," will be given at the Woman's Club meeting next Wednesday by Mrs. Ralph Emerson Fletcher, graduate of the Curtis School of Expression of Boston and curator of the Shakespeare Department of the Los Angeles Ebell Club. She will be presented by Mrs. A. D. Cain, program chairman of the club, and will be assisted by Miss Leoni High, young Sierra Madre singer.
